'i' Did That!

A Hosted User Experience

A range of user experiences that give great examples and send clear messages to all i-UG Members and Conference Delegates

Mike Ryan – i-UG Chairman

Your host for the Conference and for this User Experience

...Welcome to:

‘i’ Did That!

A Hosted User Experience

Why this format?

- Hosted User Presentations – why?
 - Help with the messaging and hopefully encourage new User stories
 - Reducing the burden on Users to produce material
 - Allowing ALL the audience to appreciate these User stories
- Why an share this with an audience and expert opinion?:
 - There is no better endorsement for progress than recognition by peers
 - To assist in deeper explanation of some of the techniques where relevant
 - To assist in answering questions from the audience
 - To keep me honest...

An IBM i Journey over to the Cloud

Presented by:

- Marc Minguet – IT Manager, Zodiac Milpro
- Patrice Besnard – Director, D-Fi

Typically, in striving to keep a successful company continuing to be successful, the time came where the business needed to agree an upgrade of their ERP system and accept that this also meant infrastructure investment...

'i' Did That!

That dratted Tax Man

Presented by:

- Andy Youens – CEO at FORMASERVE

When Andy realised that he needed to report to the tax man in a new way, and that he had customers asking him to give advice, Andy looked to his IBM i and the new Open Source he had been working with and made some tough decisions....

FormaServe Systems

‘i’ Did That!

Back to the Future...

Presented by:

- Tony Cotton – STEM Ambassador
- ...supported by i-UG (Me for now...)

It has been something of a Holy Grail of recent years. Colin Spofford and I have looked for the way to inject youth into IBM i community and IBM i into the Younger Generations. Then along comes STEM and Tony...

Chairman and open comment

'I Did (Can Do) That!
